WEST VIRGINIA PEOPLE TO HAVE A PICNIC

Here is an open invitation for all the people of Southern California who ever lived in West Virginia to attend a jolly all-day picnic reunion in Sycamore Grove Park, Los Angeles, Saturday, June 22, 1918. There will be county headquarters, where you can meet friends; basket dinners at noon, coffee provided, and an informal program opening about two o'clock. Each one who reads this notice is asked to pass it on to all the West Virginia folks possible. Take a day off and have a regular family reunion and good time, for this is the main object of our picnic. Honor the old home state with a patriotic remembrance rally.

Tourists and visitors from our state will be warmly welcomed.

When the war is over there will be only two kinds of men left—the men who did and the men who didn't.

BUSINESS GIRLS

ORGANIZE EVENING CLASS IN SURGICAL DRESSING WORK AT RED CROSS ROOMS

A fine new big class in surgical dressing work was organized Tuesday evening at headquarters on Brand boulevard. It was initiated by a club of young business women of Glendale who have been meeting informally once a week to knit and who have been known as "The Nifty Knitters," but these girls found the knitting quite a tax on eyes which are constantly employed during the day. They did not want to give up war work, so they have transformed it into "The Glendale Service Corps" and will meet weekly on Tuesday evening at the Red Cross headquarters to work under the instruction of Mrs. Eva Tuft, Chairman of the Surgical Dressings Department, who is exceedingly interested in this class of enthusiastic workers. They plan to assemble at 7:45 and work for two hours. As yet it is entirely informal, with no officers and no dues. Every young woman in Glendale who wants to join will be welcomed and she has only to report to some member already enrolled or to present herself at the Surgical Dressings Department in the rear of the hall which extends across the front of the building next Tuesday evening. Each member will be expected to equip herself with a big white coverall apron, a headdress and pair of scissors. The chapter will be able to loan aprons and headdresses to newcomers for a night or two, but members are expected to provide them eventually.

The membership as enrolled to date includes the following young ladies:

Ruth Sanford
Margaret and Vera McPherson
Winifred Sadler
Gladys Lampert
Lillian, Grace and Birdie Shropshire
Violet, Alma and Muriel Turner
Martha Ray
Estella Smith
Viola Schoenfelt
Elizabeth Smith
Bertha Sayre
Mabel Evarts
Gertrude Rock
Jessie and Bessie Mock
Dorothy Wilde
Katherine and Bess Phillips
Esther Shremp
Margaret Boucher
Leeta McCoy
Grace Crampton
Mildred Fowler

Many others have expressed interest and will probably be present at the next meeting.

RAND FINISHES AUTO COURSE

Henry Chase Rand, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rand of 237 South Howard street, who was for some time with the Coast Artillery stationed on Dead Man's Island, was transferred by his request to the 52nd Battalion and sent to the training school at Fortress Monroe in April. He finished his course June 5 and has been ordered to Camp Merritt, from which point he will likely sail very soon. Out of 252 taking the course in the auto school, our Glendale boy stood 18th, a record of which his parents and friends are all proud.

A letter to his mother gives some interesting facts about the course he has just completed. One of the tests for graduation was a night drive over rough roads without lights. The captain drove all over the country in an effort to lose his men but did not succeed. They drove over a road built by General Lee in the Civil War. This was ten feet high with a swamp on either side. There was only one minor accident and the captain expressed himself as very proud of the record.

JOINS VICTORIA ENGINEERS

Bert Kelley of 530 Central avenue, who is a Canadian, enlisted last week in the Royal Victoria Engineers and will leave on the 20th for Victoria, B. C., for service in the British army. He has broken up his home here and his wife and little daughter will go to Long Beach to be with her parents during his absence. Mrs. Kelley is a member of the Young Mothers' Class of the Baptist Church of this city, which gave a farewell supper in honor Mr. and Mrs. Kelley at the church Saturday evening. They were also dinner guests of Mrs. George Rowe Monday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wildman were also entertained. Mr. Kelley has been a motorman on the East Glendale cars and has made many friends here who will miss him but who admire his patriotism and who wish him all kinds of luck in his army life. Mrs. Kelley will be no less missed in the circles in which she has been active.

AMERICANS CLEAR BELLEAU WOOD

OBEY ORDERS WITH ENTHUSIASM AND DEFEAT GERMANS WITH LIGHT CASUALTIES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES IN FRANCE, June 12.—The American forces have entirely cleared Belleau Wood. The Germans were defeated with great loss after desperate fighting. The Americans attacked after a bombardment, with orders to "put through the wood." They did so with comparatively light casualties. A simultaneous German attack against Bourches was repelled by the Americans.

GOOD WORK BY ITALIAN NAVY

TWO ITALIAN TORPEDO BOATS DESTROY TWO OF THE LARGEST AUSTRIAN DREADNAUGHTS IN THE ADRIATIC

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

ROME, June 12.—Two Italian Torpedo Boats operating against the entire Austrian Battle Fleet, yesterday morning boldly slipped through the lines of the enemy destroyers and torpedoed two of the largest Austrian dreadnaughts.

The raid occurred off the Dalmatian Islands in the Adriatic, where the battle squadron was steaming in fleet formation. After torpedoing the dreadnaughts the Italian boats escaped to their place, but on the way badly damaged a pursuing Austrian destroyer.

GERMAN STRIKE ON OISE BLOCKED

GERMAN LOSSES TO DATE IN THE GREAT OFFENSIVE ARE ESTIMATED AT 666,000 MEN

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, June 12.—The German strike on the Oise front has been blocked at every point by the desperate resistance of the Frence. The battle proceeds with unabated fury between Montdidier and the Oise. There is no change, although the battle is furious. German attempts against the French left collapsed and the French made progress east of Marys and Semlis Wood.

The Germans in a violent attack tried to repulse the French on the Aronde River, but their attack broke down with exceptionally heavy losses. On the French right the Germans repeatedly tried to debouch from the south bank of the Matz River, but the French held their position, against a German attack out of all proportion as regards numbers of men engaged.

This morning the Germans attacked between the Aisne River and Villers Cotterets. Most violent fighting is raging on the Dominicre-Ambleny.

It is estimated that the German casualties in the great offensive thus far are 666,000. They have engaged with nearly four million men since the offensive first started in Picardy.

GERMANS FAIL IN THEIR OBJECTIVES

ARE NEARLY TEN MILES FROM THEIR PRE-FIXED OBJECTIVE WHEN FRENCH ATTACKS DRIVE THEM BACK

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, June 12. —French efforts on the Oise River front are believed to have brought to an end the big German drive in that region. While the most intense fighting will continue for several days, the Germans last night obtained the mamimum result they can expect to attain in pursuit of their pre-fixed objective for Sunday night which was Compeign from which they were nearly ten miles distant when the French counter attacks drove them back.

"DIPLOMACY" RESOLUTION DEFEATED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The Senate today defeated Senator Borah's "diplomacy" resolution following the announcement by Senator Hitchcock that President Wilson opposes the provision to have all treaties openly considered by the Senate. A letter from President Wilson to Senator Hitchcock stated that by "open diplomacy" the President meant the publication of all treaties after they had been ratified.

THE CASUALTY LIST

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Today's casualty list includes fifteen killed in action, including William Loftia of Alameda; nine deaths from wounds, 18 deaths from disease, 17 deaths from accidents and other causes; sixty were severely wounded, six wounded, degree undetermined, and one missing.

MAY BE CALLED OVERSEAS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON , June 12.—It is announced that it is now the plan of the United States Government to call Coast Artillery Companies from this country to protect Paris in the event of supreme danger to the French capital.

THE THRIFT CLUBS

GLENDALE HAS THIRTY-ONE ORGANIZATIONS OF W. S. S. BUYERS

One of the methods suggested by the United States Government for stimulating interest in War Savings is the organization of War-Savings Societies. A group of individuals, connected with one another by reason of business, residence, lodge affiliations or any common tie, forms itself into one of these organizations and binds itself as a group or as individuals to the purchase of a certain amount of Thrift or War-Savings Stamps regularly each month. These groups not only buy stamps themselves but also undertake the sale of stamps to others. Thus an ever-increasing number of people are made interested in the subject of War Savings.

One of the most interesting and profitable results of the meetings of such societies is the ingenuity displayed by members to discover new ways of saving and of earning money. One Glendale lady admits blacking the family's shoes for recompense.

Glendale now has thirty-one such organizations and at least one new group forms each week. Those wishing to become a recognized society should apply to Harry L. Howe of the High School, who can furnish all materials and further information as to details. The following is a list of the local organizations together with a list of officers:

1. Unity Lodge War-Savings Society. Number of members, 30. Officers: Pres., C. B. Wilde; Sec., Albert Cornwell.

2. Cerritos Ave. P.-T. A. War-Savings Society. Members, 36. Officers: Pres., Mrs. Ella W. Richardson; Sec., Mrs. T. J. Meagher.

3. Glendale Union High School P.-T. A. War-Savings Society. Number of members, 40. Officers: Pres., Mrs. Ben H. Nichols; Sec., Mrs. Clara Puffer.

4. Doran St. P.-T. A. War-Savings Society. Members, 21. Officers: Pres., Mrs. F. H. Cassell; Sec., Mrs. F. Eshelberger

5. Glendale U. H. S. Faculty W. S. S. Society. Officers: Pres., Harry L. Howe; Sec., Miss Dorothy B. Poppy.

6. Pacific Ave. P.-T. A. W. S. S. Society. Number of members, 50. Officers: Pres., Mrs. Minnette Sherman; Sec., Edna I. Sawyer.

NEWSPAPER MEN TO MEET

The summer meeting of the Southern California Associated Dailies, styled a "Win-the-War Meeting," will be held in Monrovia next Saturday afternoon and evening, when representatives of fifty or more daily papers published south of the Tehachepi will be guests of Monrovia citizens. Dinner will be served in the Hotel 'Leven Oaks at 6 o'clock, and the regular semi-annual business session will follow. All who can assemble earlier in the afternoon will be entertained with short sight-seeing tours.

The meetings of the Associated Dailies are primarily and practically exclusively business affairs, not junkets. More business and better business is the theme, but at the coming gathering the attention of all the members will be concentrated upon the newspapers' part in helping to win the war. Crombie Allen of Ontario, president of the Association, in his invitation to the other members for next Saturday's session, says: "The newspapers are playing a prominent part in helping to win the war. That's our first business, main business, only business, but we can do this all the better if our newspapers are efficient newspapers. Our meeting will consider ways and means to this end, more efficient newspapers, therefore greater ability to do our part in the war."

STREET NAMING

City Manager Watson states that the chief matter which is coming up for the consideration of the Board of Trustees at its regular meeting in the City Hall Thursday evening will be the naming of streets. Since last reported, a few suggestions for street names have been submitted to the Board, one of which is the substitution of Garfield avenue for Ninth street. Objection has been made to the substitution of "Aliso" for Sycamore avenue, porperty owners preferring if a change is to be made that it shall bear the name "Doran street" all the way through. So says Mr. Watson. As above stated, the discussion of these matters and final action will take place Thursday evening.

NURSES GRADUATE

SANITARIUM COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES HELD TUESDAY EVENING

The 1918 graduating class of the Glendale Sanitarium and Training School for missionary nurses received their diplomas at the Third street grammar school last night. A large number of the associate workers in the institution and friends of the ten graduates filled the school auditorium as the Sanitarium band opened the exercises of the evening with the march, "Officer of the Day." This was followed by a selection from the "Beggar Student," played by the band.

The auditorium was beautifully decorated for the occasion with daisies and other flowers, while just behind the speaker, on the rostrum, was "Old Glory." Several flags of the Allies were also used in the decorations. Five tables were heaped high with flowers and other presents, a tangible evidence of the kindly regard and good wishes felt toward the graduates by relatives, friends and patrons of the institution.

Dr. George Thomason, in delivering the commencement address, paid a tribute to the absent member of the class, Arthur G. Elvin, who answered the call of his country in the midst of his training, and thus was unable to be present with the other graduates last night. "This empty chair," said Dr. Thomason, "indicates that even before the full completion of his course, the absent member of this class responded 'where duty calls,' and has already entered upon the service of his country. Our thoughts, our hearts, and our prayers go out to him tonight. God bless him where he is and make his heart glad as he tries in his mind tonight to picture this delightful scene. We miss him but we rejoice in his patriotism and we are inspired by his example. May the sweet con-

CLASS DINNER

Eighteen friends from Occidental college were entertained at a four-course dinner Tuesday evening by Miss Evelyn M. Kent at her home, 1207 Arden avenue. They were all of the class of 1917 or which Miss Kent was a member. They were served at two tables and Dean Burt and Mrs. Burt who were guests of honor presided at the tables. The decorations featured the college and class colors, blue for the class and gold for the college and were carried out in the candle shades and in the floral pieces with which the tables were centered and which were composed of coreopsis and larkspur.

DEATH OF MRS. KLEIN

Mrs. Stella L. Klein, wife of C. J. Klein of 1110½ West Broadway, passed away at Thornycroft hospital Tuesday, June 11. Mrs. Klein had been in poor health for the past five years.

The deceased was born in Michigan, February 17, 1890. She came to California a year ago and had been living in Glendale only about two months. She is survived by her husband, who is employed in a Los Angeles department store. She also leaves four sisters, Mrs. Rosenberger of Detroit, Mrs. Ella Townsend of Grand Rapids, Mich., Mrs. Frances Van der Waals and Mrs. Della Chapman of Glendale.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at half past three at the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial Park, where interment will be made. The Pulliam Undertaking Company is in charge.

ELKS OBSERVE FLAG DAY

Beautiful exercises appropriate to Flag Day, June 14th, will be held on the evening of that day at the Elks' Lodge in this city, which will be open to all citizens. They are urged to avail themselves of the invitation and to come and help swell the spirit of patriotism and pay tribute to our national flag. John G. Mott, a member of Los Angeles Lodge No. 99, a prominent Elk and fine orator, will make the leading address, his theme being: "The American Flag and What It Signifies Today." There will also be orchestral and vocal music.

PLAYGROUND HEAD TO SPEAK

C. B. Raitt, head of the Los Angeles playgrounds, will address the Pacific avenue P.-T. A. Thursday, June 13, at 3 p. m. His subject is, "What we can do with our children during vacation." Mrs. Robert Yost will render a solo, accompanied by Miss Gertrude Champlain. Installation of officers will follow the business meeting at 2:30.

THE FIENDISH DOCTRINE OF THE GERMANS

LEST YOU FORGET WHY WE ARE AT WAR, it is well to attempt to analyze some of the monstrous, cruel and inhuman teachings of the Germans—as nowhere else in the civilized world can a parallel be found to match their more than barbarous propaganda and teachings.

"The Prussians are cruel by nature; civilization will make them ferocious."—Goethe.

"O Germany, hate now! Arm thyself with steel and pierce with thy bayonet the heart of every foe; no prisoners! Lock all our lips in silence, turn our neighbors' lands into deserts."—Vierordt.

"Woe and death to all those who shall oppose my will. Woe and death to those who do not believe in my mission."—Kaiser Wilhelm, 1914.

"It is better to let a hundred women and children belonging to the enemy die of hunger than to let a single German soldier suffer."—Von der Goltz.

"Germany is destined to rule the world, or at least a great part of it. * * * The lives of human beings are to be conserved only if it makes for the state's advancement; their lives are to be sacrificed if it is to the state's advantage."—General von Kries, 1916.

"Use your weapons in such a way that for a thousand years no Chinese shall dare look upon a German askance. Be as terrible as Attila's Huns."—The Kaiser to his troops going to China.

"Perpetual peace is a dream, and it is not even a beautiful dream. War is a part of the eternal order instituted by God."—Von Moltke.

"War is the most august and sacred of human activities."—Von Gottberg.

"We must not look for a permanent peace as a result of this war. Heaven defend Germany from that!"—O. A. H. Schmidt.

"Remember that you are the chosen people. The spirit of the Lord has descended upon me because I am the emperor of the Germans. I am the fighting instrument of the Almighty. I am His sword, His agent."—The Kaiser.

"WE'RE A LONG WAY FROM HOME, BOYS!"

By Fred S. Ferguson

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES IN PICARDY, May 15.—"Gentlemen, my orderly has just brought me a box of cigars," said the Major as he came into the mess. "They are probably the rottenest cigars ever made. Help yourself."

Despite the reputation given the cigars everybody did. There was a laugh and suggestions of donning gas masks, but a little thing like bad cigars couldn't dampen the spirits of the mess. And this is a story of the mess.

It started on the march to Picardy, far back in a little town in the mobilization area. It sported pancakes for breakfast. Then it began to produce pie—real pie. From that, as the march went on and new villages became headquarters, it developed steaks, roasts, boiled beef, asparagus, cauliflower, peas, potatoes in various disguise, including salad, and on to the point of deserting French warbread for the real American white loaf. But the climax was reached when the mess-sergeant discovered a cow. Then real milk appeared on the table, instead of the canned variety.

"I wonder if there's any chance this cow might be suffering from shell-shock and that her milk will curdle?" asked the lieutenant from Chicago as he reached for the first glass.

"I don't mind an ordinary snore," came from the other end of the table, "but I hope the Boche gets all lieutenants that sleep with both intake and exhaust pipes open."

"Whoinhell snores?"

This from a dark-haired slender lieutenant, who everyone happened to know was billeted with the snore objector.

"I'll tell you, he's got a snore with an intake like a motorcycle exhaust with the muffler off and an exhaust like a dozen seltzer bottles," was the comeback. "Even if you do sleep on the floor and never take a bath, you ought to hold on to just a little manners."

Enter the gas officer. Heated argument on the concentration required for specified results. The Veterinary corps officer breaks in with the clincher that he has a mule for a patient that was gassed in "less than that," whatever "that" happens to be.

He also has a mule that was hit in the stomach with a piece of shrapnel and is going to get well.

But that doesn't interest the adjutant's assistant, who wants to know how he's going to get off an eight-page telegram when the French lines say they can't handle it.

Somebody mentions the engineer dump. It's some fifty yards from the door of the mess. The favorite pastime of the Boche, once a dump is discovered, is to shell it. The officer from the engineers is about as popular as hives in hot weather, so far as his dump is concerned. The conversational fire is turned on him, this being a part of the meal-time amusement. Somehow or other, he doesn't come back. He smiles a wan sort of smile, his eyes resting on his cup.

"That's it. I've got a letter. It's from home, way back there in Portland, Oregon. My father's dead. Been dead five weeks, and here I am just finding it out."

The laughter and bantering die out. The veterinary corps officer fumbles in his pocket. He pulls out a cablegram.

"I guess we are both getting it," he says, without lifting his eyes from the bit of paper. "I got this last night. Ten days getting here. Says my father can't live two weeks. He may be gone now."

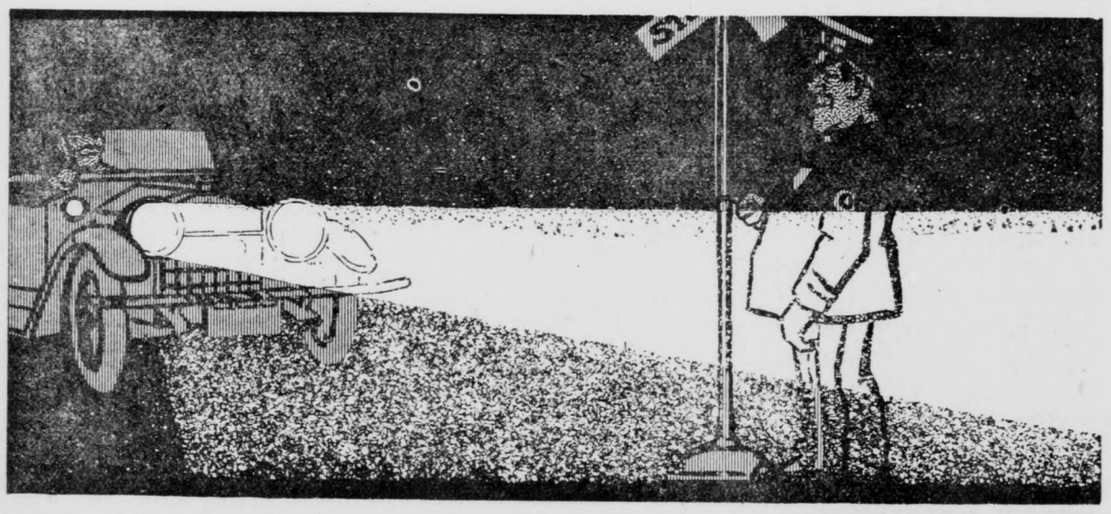
There are mumbled expressions of sympathy. Few look up from the table. The guns can be heard pounding just a little way off. But just outside the morning song of birds floats in with the sunshine. The mess breaks up. The lieutenant from Chicago expresses its thoughts as he goes out the door:

"We're a long way from home, aren't we?"

HEAVY STUFF

"Are you the same young man to whom I gave some war-bread I baked at the Charity Fair?"

"No, and what's more, the doctor says I never will be."

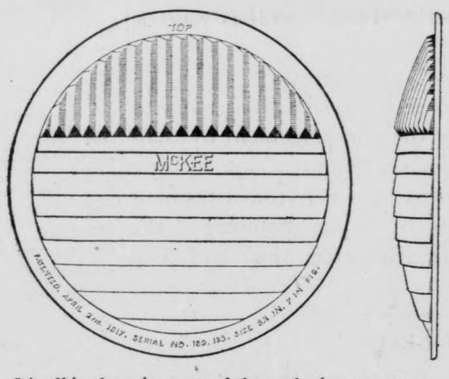


Safe from the Law and the Dangers of the Road

There are two kinds of lens: one that gives you legal safety by reducing the strength of the useful light (often endangering driving)—and the crystal-clear, law-abiding McKee Lens, that directs the full power of the light down on the road where you need it for safe driving.

Choose the McKee and you get an intense road-beam for 600 feet ahead—a strong side-light for passing cars and turning corners safely—and a distinctive lens that you will be proud to have on your car.

If your dealer cannot supply you, send price, size of lens and model of car direct to us.



It's all in the prisms—and the exclusive concave-convex shape. They save the light wasted by ordinary window glass lens and make it do useful work. Dimmers are not used with the McKee. For safety's sake, you need all the light. The McKee Lens gives it to you.

WAR HITS FINANCES OF NATION'S SCHOOLS

(By United Press)

NEW YORK, June 12.—"War deficits open up a new field for college rivalry," said Frank Diehl Fackenthal, Secretary of Columbia University today.

"The best football team, the most courses, the most students are no longer goals in themselves. The largest war deficit alone carries distinction. The estimates of their shortages for the year given by the larger Eastern institutions run, in some instances, as high as $300,000. The rise in the cost of physical upkeep, as reflected in the prices of mops and coal, and the loss of income through shrinking registration figures have played havoc with University budgets. In the hands of a statistician the cost of the war to education could be stated in no uncertain terms. If Columbia University, for instance, has fallen behind $300,000 on a budget of a little more than $3,000,000, what would the total loss at the same proportion be the country over?

"Many ways of meeting these deficits are in contemplation. Some institutions are borrowing, some are levying upon their alumni and others are studying their budgets scientifically with a view to effecting educational reforms and economies that will be permanent.

"One interesting thing about college and university deficits in war times is that they are not, like most deficits, complete losses, but are being made by many institutions to pay large dividends in the form of national service. Colleges everywhere finding themselves obligated for certain fixed expenditures which the number of their students does not justify, have turned their unused facilities over to the Government for purposes of research and instruction."

WANT MORE PROTECTION

Petitions looking to the calling of a bond election of not to exceed $10,000 were presented to the board of trustees of San Fernando recently. Mr. Walker, who presented them, stated that the sentiment was strongly in favor of the purchase of some sort of chemical apparatus for the extinguishing of fires—preferably one or two light combination chemical and pumping engines, perhaps.

The petitions were quite largely signed.

He—"Dearest, do you think you could be happy with a man like me?"

She—"Well, perhaps—if he wasn't too much like you."

Personals

The annexation election to annex territory west of the City and north to the hills, including the Grand View District, will take place June 24th.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Weaver, 235 South Kenwood street, are rejoicing over the arrival of a nine-pound daughter who came Wednesday, June 12, 1918.

Mrs. Emilie Ketterling is again in Glendale at her home, 1304 West Colorado street after six months visit with relatives in Cincinnati, Ohio, and other eastern cities.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society of the First Methodist Church will meet Thursday afternoon in the church parlors at 1:30 o'clock to tie quilts. All ladies of the church and congregation are urged to attend.

Mrs. Millicent Jones, whose pupils are to give a Red Cross benefit at K. P. hall on the evening of June 18, announces that she has secured Major Eicher of the Aviation School at Riverside to give a brief address at her concert.

Lot cleaning will be done as usual in July, and the city will begin posting the notices in about two weeks. Citizens are urged to save time and trouble for themselves and city officials by taking time by the forelock and cleaning their lots before they are ordered to do so.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Mullen of 1015 West Fifth street, accompanied by Mrs. McLean and Miss Moran, spent Saturday and Sunday in San Diego visiting Camp Kearny, where they were guests of Dwight Stephenson of this city, now in the officers' training camp. Under his guidance they saw everything of interest in the camp and had a very delightful and profitable visit.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Congregational Church will have an all-day meeting Thursday beginning at 10 o'clock. It is special guest day and Mrs. Jennie Franklin Head will give a vocal number, Mrs. W. J. Marsh, wife of the pastor, Mrs. A. R. Chappell and Mrs. George Adams will give toasts at the mid-day luncheon. A large amount of sewing for the Belgians has been laid out for the day's work, and all ladies of the church and congregation are urged to attend, bringing needles and thimbles.

Complaint has been made to this paper that boys of Glendale are not showing their patriotism in practical ways and that one direction in which they are violating the principles they are supposed to stand for and opposing the will of the government is in trespassing on gardens which have been planted in obedience to the urgings of the Food Administration to produce food. It is charged that the boys, and some of them are said to be Boy Scouts, run through these lots and do a lot of damage. Here is a chance for real patriotic reform.

The Young Business Men's Bible Class of the First Methodist Episcopal Church is preparing an evening of wit and humor to be given in the social halls of the church Tuesday night, June 25th. Tickets will be on sale at the Glendale Book Store, H. & A. Book Store, Glendale Savings Bank, and can be secured from any of the boys. Proceeds from the entertainment will apply on class subscription to the new church. The program will consist of an evening with the graduating class of Squash Corners, male quartette number, double male quartette, Typical Home Gossip number, Shadowgraphs and one serious patriotic number at the close, with music and mirth interspersed.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Men of 18 years and upwards will be very welcome at the Masonic Temple this (Wednesday) evening when the preliminary proceedings in connection with the organization of a chapter of the Knights of Columbus will take place. Judge Thomas C. White of Los Angeles will be the chief speaker and there will be an interesting miscellaneous program which has been provided by J. H. Mellish. It is hoped that a large number of men will respond to the invitation.

ELKS' DANCE

Saturday night, June 15, the local lodge of Elks are to hold the first "Shirt Waist" dance of the season. This is open to all Elks and their friends. Tickets, 50 cents per couple. Good music and an exceptionally fine time is assured those who attend.

Inasmuch as the Glendale Elks are more than generous in donating their hall for the use of various societies to hold their entertainments in, their functions should be patronized, especially when the excellent entertaining ability of the Elks is taken into consideration.

Tickets are on sale at the Club House, Roberts & Echols, Horton's Shoe Store, and by various members of the Lodge.

sciousness of having responded to the call of duty more than compensate him for the keen disappointment that must come to him in not being permitted to be with us tonight.

"Nurses are heroes," continued the physician, "heroes in the truest sense of the word. Probably more real heroism is displayed by nurses than is manifested among any other class of workers. It is the heroism which is quietly displayed without any expectation of notice or reward so far as this world is concerned. In epidemics of virulent disease, when the outside world is glad to be excluded, and as far as possible separated from the danger zone, a band of nurses is always ready to march into the valley of death without faltering or hesitation, never thinking of or fearing danger, and there minister to the death-stricken victims, frequently entirely unnoticed, except by the all-seeing Eye that takes note of all the deeds done in the body."

Dr. Thomason mentioned the great yellow fever epidemic of Philadelphia, when Stephen Girard, the great philanthropist, was among the first to volunteer his services. He also referred to the faithful nurses who stood by Sir David Bruce in Uganda, risking their lives to attend cases of sleeping sickness, from which terrible malady no patient has ever been known to entirely recover.

German air raids on Red Cross hospitals were also referred to by the speaker, who eulogized the faithful nurses, all of whom remained to care for the patients despite the fact that four squadrons of German aeroplanes circled overhead dropping great bombs which killed women nurses and patients, and wounded nearly 100 persons. He also mentioned the intrepid courage of the nurses who, a few weeks ago, during the battle of the Somme, while surrounded by fierce fighting, and three times ordered by the commanding officer to evacuate the hospital and flee, begged to be allowed to stay. Both physicians and nurses did stay, he added. "One night between 7 p. m. and 4 a. m. three surgeons with the aid of nurses performed 26 consecutive major operations. One of the surgical staff, writing to an American friend, summed up the whole motive when he said, 'We intend sticking so long as there are wounded to succor.' That is heroism born of facing danger until there is no thought of personal safety—only the thought of others, wounded and suffering and needing ministry."

That not only Europe but the whole world is a battlefield, wherein the greatest of all wars of all the ages against the evil, the degeneracy and the pollution in the world, is now being waged, was the statement of the speaker. He said the great need of the world today is the taking of "the battered and tattered wrecks of human bodies and under God reconstructing and rehabilitating them, gathering up the fragments of human lives that nothing be lost. Such work represents the Gospel in action."

"The hour of the world's greatest necessity is upon us, and therefore the hour of supreme opportunity," he continued. "There is a sacred obligation resting upon you to respond to the call of the hour. The appeal of physical suffering should make the strongest attack upon our common humanity.

"Here is a company of young people whose hearts God has touched, whose vision has been enlarged, so that they take in the world and its needs, and which has led them to fit themselves not only as nurses but as medical missionary nurses. It has been well said that the history of medical missions in foreign fields is the justification of medical missions. Medical missionary work destroys caste. It is now a serious question with all missionary societies as to whether any missionaries should be sent out without some knowledge of the healing art. The medical missionary is honored and welcomed always and anywhere in the foreign field. National and religious prejudice vanish before him, and in one year he can do what it would take another missionary many years to accomplish. Many who are studying the great problem of the evangelization of the world agree that the consecrated medical missionary and the well-equipped hospital are most important elements of success in the foreign field."

Dr. H. F. Rand, formerly medical superintendent of the Glendale Sanitarium offered the invocation. A quartet by Messrs. Earl Gardner and George Greer, Miss Duffiel Sturges and Mrs. William Hoff was well received. Mr. Howard Young rendered as a cornet solo the well known song, "Jerusalem," being accompanied by Miss Pansy Beddoe.

Dr. W. J. Johnson presented the diplomas to the class and Pastor R. W. Munson, chaplain of the institution pronounced the benediction.

Several selections were well rendered by the Sanitarium band as a host of friends gathered about the rostrum to shake hands with the graduates and bid them God-speed. Those who graduated are: Mrs. Maude Simons Riley, Miss Nena Emmelyn John, Mrs. Daisy Dean Harris, Miss Hazel Mignon Bergstrum, Miss Celia Fern Evans, Miss Doris Ann Miller, Miss Maye H. Hansen, Miss Ruth Charlotte Shufelt, Mrs. Genevieve Lawrence Morlan, Mr. Arthur G. Elvin, Miss Luella H. Evans.

COURT NEWS

The case against William I. Blanchard of 405 West Ninth street, who was arrested some time ago on complaint of A. E. Nelson of 151 West Tenth street and released on his own recognizance, came up before Judge Lowe Tuesday and consumed the greater part of the day. It began at 10 o'clock in the morning and went to the jury at 4:45 p. m. It was tried by Deputy District Attorney William C. Randall of Los Angeles and Attorney James McBryde of Glendale represented the defendant.

The jury was made up of the following citizens: James P. Stoddard, H. E. White, A. Clark, J. M. Freeman, J. H. Franklin, H. L. Bullinger and Mesdames J. Hoopes and C. L. Peckham.

Both attorneys prepared instructions for the jury, which were given them by Judge Lowe and which included elaborate definitions of larceny and the differentiations of grand larceny and petty larceny, also definitions of what constitutes "reasonable doubt." The jury deliberated about fifteen minutes and brought in a verdict of "not guilty."

Witnesses who testified on behalf of the defendant were Mrs. Mary Van Hoff, Mrs. Olga Blanchard, Clarence Blanchard, Mrs. Ella W. Richardson, Mrs. E. J. Morgan, J. W. Birney, George Blanchard, Henry Blanchard, Mrs. Winona Crawford.

The case against Blanchard brought under a second complaint sworn to by A. E. Nelson, was set for today (Wednesday) to be heard before Judge Lowe at 10 o'clock and to be a jury trial.

SAN FERNANDO LANDS DIVIDED

A division of the lands of the San Fernando Mission Land Co. is reported to have been made, the different members of the company taking certain properties in lieu of stock.

It is reported that E. T. Earl has taken over much of the land and other property in the vicinity of San Fernando although it is not believed that this touches the hotel or the improved property inside the city limits.

Some changes in management and policy are likely to follow the division, it is understood, but just what these will be has not been announced.

The original holdings of the San Fernando Mission Land Co. purchased about fifteen years ago amounted to some 17,000 acres, but a great deal of it has been sold off in smaller tracts. It included everything south of the Southern Pacific railroad and west of the Pacoima wash up to the foothills and southerly as far as Roscoe and west to a line about five miles west of San Fernando. L. C. Brand is president of the company and actively interested in it.

A "MARAHUNA" FIEND

Gilbert Perez of Verdugo road, a Mexican, was arrested yesterday for a personal attack on Robert Percetis with a pair of pruning shears. It is charged that Perez had been smoking "Marahuna," a drug made from a species of loco weed, the use of which has been prohibited by the Government because when smoked in the cigarettes used by the Mexicans it has the effect of causing violent insanity in the smoker. Perez was arrested for growing the plant on his own premises two years ago. The assault case will come up June 14th before Judge Lowe and if the evidence introduced at that time warrants, he may be arrested on charges brought by the State Pharmacy Board, which is authorized to prosecute all persons found with the drug in their possession.

The Glendale Sanitarium take pleasure in announcing that their dining room is now conducted on the European plan and is open to the public, especially to those who appreciate a good, clean, wholesome, vegetarian diet at very moderate prices.

A BOWLING TRIUMPH

By taking all three games from Santa Monica the Glendale Elks went into first place last night in the Southern California Elks Bowling League. Our local lodge is making a hard fight for the $500.00 trophy and while they have no "stars," they are so evenly balanced that the other teams are beginning to sit up and take notice. A large and enthusiastic crowd witnessed last night's match and many of our best citizens are hoarse today from cheering our boys to victory.

Smother the Kaiser With WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

Sacred treaties are called by the Kaiser mere "scraps of paper." His words are an example of the "Kultur" of the Hun who commits unspeakable crimes against innocent women and children---the "Kultur" that America is fighting to remove forever from the world.

We are in the fight to win---our soldiers must "carry on"---those at home MUST back up our boys to the limit. The government has officially set

On that day every loyal American will be summoned to prove his patriotism by "signing the pledge" to agree to invest in a definite amount of War Savings Stamps each month during 1918.
